SUMMARY

A double-revetted probable ammunition storage facility is located 3 kilometers (km) south of Brody, adjacent to a probable four-lane bituminous highway which extends from Brody to Zolochiv to the southwest. The 90 acre installation is trapezoidal in shape and contains 14 buildings of which all but two are heavily revetted. The considerable space between revetment walls and the encompassed building, plus possible boardwalks between buildings, suggest the possibility of an explosives barging or cutting operation. An administration or operations building is located in the southwest corner of the facility, and a guardhouse is near the northwest corner. The facility is probably active.

A single-lane road, probably of crushed rock/gravel, extends 3,000 feet to the Brody Army Barracks.

The installation was covered by [REDACTED] KTYHOL missions between [REDACTED]

DESCRIPTION OF INSTALLATION

Road Service

A probable four-lane bituminous road from Brody extends north and south, past the west side of the installation. A single-lane crushed rock/gravel road directly serves the area.

Aircraft Landing Strip

The abandoned Brody South Airfield is directly south of the installation.

Administrative and Troop Housing Area

Area D contains one possible administration or operations building, 170 by 55 feet, and one gatehouse, 55 by 40 feet.

Ammunition Storage Area

Area F contains 12 storage buildings, two 165 by 50 feet, one 105 by 40 feet, one 90 by 40 feet, two 65 by 40 feet, two 55 by 40 feet, two 40 by 25 feet and two 35 by 20 feet. All are heavily revetted with considerable space between wall and building.
